your leadership resource organization

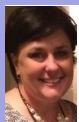

“A leader’s job is to duplicate oneself; leaders developing leaders who develop leaders.”

– Carol McCall

Preparing Leadership for the 21st Century to be:

Mission Statement

TACL, a volunteer association that builds, supports, and enhances community leadership development in each county across the state.

Lori Jones, Chairman Leadership Macon

TACL is wonderful! This forward thinking organization offers you tools to take your leadership team to new levels. The relationships, both professionally and personally, are there to support you. If your team is not a member of this dynamic organization, I encourage you to join today.

Join us in TACL

as we develop leaders who are building effective, successful communities.

Goals

- ◆ To provide quality leadership throughout Tennessee.
- ◆ To provide professional support and opportunities to expand knowledge and skills.
- ◆ To provide support to develop community leadership programs in areas where none exist.
- ◆ To provide an opportunity for diverse people to share ideas and learn from one another.

Tammy White, President/CEO Leadership Knoxville

The greatest resources we possess are our own experiences and networks. TACL intentionally puts together the key drivers of community leadership development programs across Tennessee providing an organic opportunity to nurture, learn, share, and explore in essential ways to better develop relevant programming. We all rise when we work together to promote the best practices of leadership development.

Benefits of TACL

- A Statewide Leadership Conference member discount.
- A copy of the Tennessee Leadership Program Directory.
- Networking with peers of adult and youth leadership development programs throughout the state of Tennessee.
- Mentoring to prospective and new leadership program staff/board/directors.
- Attending regional leadership program meetings.
- Eligibility for program grants and conference scholarships.
- Identifying quality speakers and facilitators for leadership presentations, as well as leadership exercises.

Jack Matthis, CPA, CBA

Arnold Thompson Arnold, PLLC

As a Chamber volunteer, TACL has provided me with insight into what is going on in other Leadership programs across the state. I have thoroughly enjoyed attending the TACL conferences over the years and always come back to my community and workplace with new ideas.
